Re CC Docket No. 95-182

Dear Ms. Dortch:

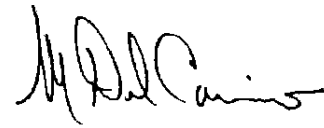

This afternoon, Charles Naftalin, Julie Murphy and I, all representing AT&T Alascom, met with Deena Shetler, Judith Nitsche, and Carol Canteen from the Wireline Competition Bureau, to discuss certain matters relevant to the above referenced Docket. In that discussion, Alascom's representatives reviewed with the staff certain processing and data issues, previously reviewed on December 3, 2003, that arose during the preparation of Transmittal No. 1281 to Alascom's FCC Tariff No. 11, filed November 25, 2003. Alascom's representatives indicated that it has been determined that two inadvertent errors have affected the rates submitted in Transmittal No. 1278, and that one of those errors affected rates on file and in effect for 2001, 2002 and earlier in 2003.

Alascom's representatives reviewed with the staff, additional details of the impact of these inadvertent errors on rates and on specific customers of Tariff No. 11 services. Alascom indicated that by the end of February it would have completed individual customer impacts and proposed refund amounts. Alascom proposed a bill credit mechanism for staff and effected customer review that would provide for prompt refunds.
